

This hand-in is individual and secret. It will not be shared with others. We will look into these sheets to identify notential problems within the groups and obtain a nicture, which might be sheets to identify potential problems within the groups and obtain a picture, which might be helpful at the end when we provide a group grade. There, based on this feedback, we might deviate from the default case of giving each member the same grade. In addition, we want to understand what you learned within the course, in terms of team dynamics and technical skills.

Name:

Your task is to distribute a budget of EUR 10,000 among your group members. Take into account each member's contribution towards the project goal, but also the member's behavior (e.g., attends meetings regularly, contributes meaningfully to group discussions, completes work on time, prepares work in a quality manner, demonstrates cooperative/supportive attitude). You can write down details below if you want.

Name	EUR	Comment

Make sure you assigned exactly EUR 10,000 to all of your team members (including yourself)!

Open Questions:  1. Were the behaviors of any of your team members particularly valuable or detrimental to the team? Explain.
2. What did you learn about working in a group (that you will carry into your next group experience) and what technical skills have you picked up from the course?

(adapted from a peer evaluation form developed at Johns Hopkins University, Oct. 2006)